

Flag Book

the spine

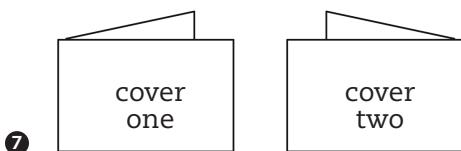

The trickiest part of the flag book is cutting down the paper.

In the spirit of accessible supplies use file folders split along the crease, but any papers the same size will do.

- THE SPINE
- ① fold in $\frac{1}{2}$ once
 - ② fold in $\frac{1}{2}$ twice
 - ③ fold in $\frac{1}{2}$ a third time
 - ④ unfold the paper
 - ⑤ using the creases you made in steps 1-3 refold the paper into an accordion, back and forth like a fan
 - ⑥ you will end up with something like this

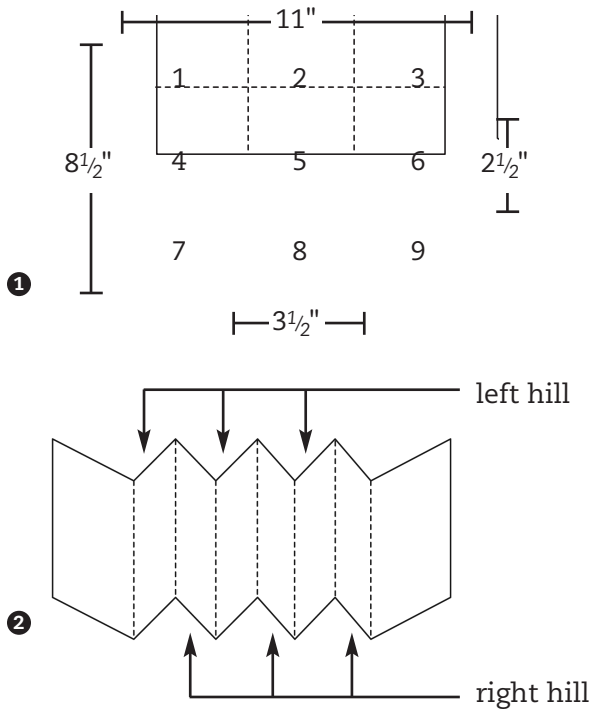

the covers

- THE COVERS
- ⑦ fold each cover in $\frac{1}{2}$ once
 - ⑧ put glue on the end flaps of the spine (both sides)
 - ⑨ press covers onto each side of the end flaps

the flags

THE FLAGS

① cut the last sheet of paper into 9 equal size flags.

② lay your book flat so that 3 peaks or hills are between the covers.

each peak or hill has a lefthand side and a righthand side.

⑥ finished flag book
